A THRILLING EXPERIENCE.

Remarkable Statement of Personal Danger and Providential Escape.

The following story—which is attracting wide attention from the press—is so remarkable that we cannot excuse ourselves if we do not lay it before our readers, entire.

To the Editor Rochester (N. Y.) Democrat:

Sir: On the first day of June, 1881, I lay at my residence in this city surrounded by my friends and waiting for death. Heaven only knows the agony I then endured, for words can never describe it. And yet, if a few years previous any one had told me that I was to be brought so low, and by so terrible a disease, I should have scoffed at the idea. I had always been uncommonly strong and healthy, and weighed over 200 pounds and hardly knew, in my own experience, what pain or sickness were. Very many people who will read this statement realize at times that they are unusually tired and cannot account for it. They feel dull pains in various parts of the body and do not understand why. Or they are exceedingly tired one day and entirely without appetite the next. This was just the way I felt when the relentless malady which had fastened itself upon me began. Still I thought nothing of it; that probably I had taken a cold which would soon pass away. Shortly after I noticed a heavy and at times neuralgic pain in one side of my head, but as it would come one day and be gone the next, I paid little attention to it. Then my stomach would get out of order and my food often failed to digest, causing at times great inconvenience. Yet, even as a physician I did not think that these things meant anything serious. I fancied I was suffering from malaria and doctored myself accordingly. But I was no better. Next noticed a peculiar color and odor about the fluids I was passing—also that there were large quantities one day and very little the next, and that a persistent froth and scum appeared on the surface and a sediment settled. And yet I did not realize my danger, for, indeed, seeing these symptoms continually, I finally became accustomed to them, and my suspicion was wholly dissipated by the fact that I had no pain in the affected organs or in their vicinity. Why I should have been so blind I cannot understand.

I consulted the best medical skill in the land. I visited all the famed mineral springs in America and traveled from Maine to California. Still I grew worse. No two physicians agreed as to my malady. One said I was troubled with spinal irritation; another, dyspepsia; another, heart disease; another, general debility; another, congestion of the base of the brain; and so on through a long list of various diseases. All the symptoms of many of which I really had. In this way several years passed, during which time I was steadily growing worse. My condition had really become pitiable. The slight symptoms I had at first experienced were developed into terrible and constant ones. My weight had been reduced from 207 to 130 pounds. My life was a burden to myself and friends. I could retain no food on my stomach and lived wholly by injections. I was a living mass of pain. My pulse was uncontrollable. In my agony I frequently fell to the floor and clutched the carpet, and prayed for death. Morphine had little or no effect in deadening the pain. For six days and nights I had the death-prenumonia hicoughs constantly. My water was filled with tube-casts and albumen. I was struggling with Bright's Disease of the kidneys in its last stages.

While suffering thus I received a call from my pastor, the Rev. Dr. Foote, at that time rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, of this city. I felt that it was our last interview, but in the course of conversation Dr. Foote detailed to me the many remarkable cures of his patients, which had come under his observation. As a practicing physician and a graduate of the schools, I decided the idea of any medicine outside the regular channels being in the least beneficial. So, solicitous, however, was Dr. Foote, that I finally promised I would waive my prejudice, and began its use on the first day of June, 1881, and took it according to directions. At first it sickened me; but the slight was good sign for one in my debilitated condition. I continued to take it: the sickening sensation departed and I was finally able to retain food upon my stomach. In a few days I noticed a decided change for the better, as also did my wife and friends. My hicoughs ceased and I experienced more rest than formerly. I was so rejoiced at this improved condition that, upon what I had believed to be a few days more was my duty. In the presence of my family and friends, should I recover, I would both publicly and privately make known this remedy for the good of humanity, wherever and whenever I had an opportunity, and this letter is in fulfillment of that vow. My improvement was constant from that time, and in less than three months I had gained 28 pounds in flesh, became entirely free from pain and I believe I owe my life and present condition wholly to Warner's Safe Cure, the remedy which I used.

Since my recovery I have thoroughly re-investigated the subject of kidney difficulties and Bright's disease, and the truths developed are astounding. I therefore state, deliberately, and as a physician, that I believe more than one-half the deaths which occur in America are caused by Bright's disease of the kidneys. This may sound like a rash statement, but I am prepared to fully verify it. Bright's disease has no distinctive features of its own (indeed, it often develops without any pain whatever in the kidneys or their vicinity), but has the symptoms of nearly every other common complaint. Hundreds of people die daily, whose burials are authorized by a physician's certificate as occurring from "Heart Disease," "Apoplexy," "Paralysis," "Spinal Complaint," "Rheumatism," "Pneumonia," and other common complaints, when in reality it is from Bright's disease of the kidneys. Few physicians, and fewer people, realize the extent of this disease or its dangerous and insidious nature. It steals into the system like a thief, manifests its presence, if at all, by the commonest symptoms and fastens itself in the constitution before the victim is aware of it. It is nearly as hereditary as consumption, quite as common and fully as fatal. Entire families, inheriting it from their ancestors, have died, and yet none of the number knew or realized the mysterious power which was removing them. Instead of common symptoms it often affords none whatever, but brings death suddenly, from convulsions, apoplexy, or heart disease. As one who has suffered, and knows by bitter experience what he says, I implore everyone who reads these words not to neglect the slightest symptoms of kidney difficulty. No one can afford to hazard such chances. I make the foregoing statements based upon facts, which I can substantiate to the letter. The welfare of those who may possibly be sufferers such as I was, is an ample inducement for me to take the step I have, and if I can successfully warn others from the dangerous path in which I once walked, I am willing to endure all professional and personal consequences.

Between The Pikes.

Mr. G. L. Mitchell is very much indisposed at present writing.

Died at the home of his brother, near Hatton, Mr. Robt. Sargent, of pneumonia.

Now is not this surprising. Just to think of it. Our bachelor friend, Hannon Smith, is contemplating matrimony and is seen wending his way in the same direction often.

Miss Cora Sudduth and Master Robert were the guests of their cousin, in Miss Nora Sudduth, last Sunday.

Mr. Burbon Pulliam, who has been very sick for some months, is glad to learn is able to be out again.

Mr. Wash Sudduth was compelled to come on horse back from his barn to his house Saturday, owing to the high rise after the rain.

The Wonderful Tower.

The highest structure in the world is Eiffel Tower, at Paris, 1,000 feet high. But the great discovery of Dr. Franklin Miles is certain to tower far above it in promoting human happiness and health. This wonderful nerve medicine builds up worn-out systems, cures fits, spasms, headache, nervous prostration, dizziness, sleeplessness, morbidly pains, sexual troubles, etc. John B. Miller, of Valparaiso, Ind., and J. D. Taylor, of Logansport, Ind., gained 30 pounds a month while taking it. Information Wanted.

Clarence W. Bowen, Secretary of the Committee on the Centennial of Washington's Inauguration, 251 Broadway, New York, desires information regarding the portraits of John Walker, William Grayson, Theodorick Bland and Alexander White, Members of Congress from Virginia. These portraits, for Memorial Volume, are particularly desired, to complete the list of portraits of the Virginia delegation in Congress at the time of Washington's Inauguration.

Thousands Poisoned.

In a recent work on Heart Disease, Dr. Franklin Miles—the noted specialist—gives many new and startling facts. Thousands of people are slowly poisoning themselves, weakening their hearts by the use of tea, coffee, tobacco and alcohol. These are Court Whips, causing it to beat rapidly, thus gradually wearing it out, producing shortness of breath when ascending, pains in the side and shoulder, hungry and faint spells. Finally heart failure and sudden death. For weakened and irritated hearts the press everywhere highly recommends the New Heart Cure discovered by Dr. Franklin Miles, which is for sale at J. W. Gayle's drug store.

ARE YOU MADE miserable by Indigestion, Consumption, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Yellow Skin? Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is a positive cure. For sale by J. W. Gayle.

Worse and More of It.

Now then, you gentlemen who doubted that the postal card contained the matter we published two weeks ago, that do you say to the following claim of Mr. Woodson that he can write ten thousand words legibly upon the same surface? Individually our faith is weak on the "easy as rolling off a log" part, especially as he says further on that "it requires great patience, and a steady nerve." Our experience in "rolling off a log" is that neither was necessary of a successful performance of that feat. But read what he has to say:

GLASGOW, VA., ROCKBRIDGE CO., }
February 3, 1891.

Editor Roundabout:

I felt very much flattered that my friends, and you among them, thought highly enough of the postal card I addressed to John W. Payne to publish it. Herewith accept my thanks for your pleasant complimentary notice at first, and especially that in your last issue, coming to my defense against those "doubting Thomases." This is all good and nice enough, but as I put so little on the card compared to what I can legibly write on its one surface, under a magnifying glass of course, that it all sounds funny to me. I can succeed in writing down over ten thousand words, and do it as easy as rolling off a log, at that. This would cover about three full pages of the ROUNDABOUT. You will find plenty readers who will doubt this, but there is not one of them who would dare to bet that I can not. But I assure you it requires great patience and a steadiness of nerve possessed by few. You seemed to be curious to know how many days and nights I spent on my card to Mr. Payne. I did this while we were snow-bound Christmas week, and only spent about a couple of hours about midday, getting the advantage of daylight. This kind of work is too trying and severe on the eyes by daylight.

We are now blessed with more propitious weather. The snow, after having lasted more than six weeks, has disappeared and we are again in the field.

The Glasgow Development Co., for whom I am laying out this property, is composed mostly of some of the wealthiest men in Norfolk, Va., and others in Ironton, O., and Chicago.

Last week I had a pleasant trip over to that famous oyster city, and while there took a jaunt over to Virginia Beach, and for the first time in my life laid eyes on the broad Atlantic and left my foot-prints on the sands of the seashore. The wind was blowing a gale; the waves were rolling to a great height; the lashing of the shores and roaring were fairly deafening, and altogether was one of the finest sights I have ever seen.

To-day has been another auspicious one for Glasgow, and a great impetus has been added to its development by its securing $500,000 English capital. This is the one-third of the promise of $1,500,000, and practically insures its future development. I am at present too much pressed for time to write more.

Physicians Couldn't Cure Him.

SEN. REVELL, Hamilton Co., O., June, 1889. One bottle of Dr. King's Nerve Tonic cured me entirely, after physicians had tried it unsuccessfully for 3 months to relieve me of nervous debility. W. H. REVELL.

People can hardly believe it.

JENNEVILLE, ILL., May 30th, 1888. I take pleasure to let you know that my boy is still all right. He has not had any of the spasms since about March 20th. The people can hardly believe it from the fact that he had as many as 10 a day or more. I believe he was a very nervous child all his life but did not show any signs of spasms until last December, after which they came in regular succession, and I had 12 doctors attending who could do nothing for him, nor even tell us what was the matter. I had despised him of his ever getting well, until I got Koenig's Nerve Tonic. After taking not quite a bottle he got quite well and has not had the least sign of spasms since. Respectfully yours, MRS. E. LEYTON.

I testify to the facts as stated above to be strictly true. JAS. HARTY, Pastor.

Wm. J. Harding... Chas. J. Harris Patrick Fitzgerald... R. Gregory John Dawson... Louis Homel Ethel Milly... Miss Clara Coleman Mrs. Hele O'Connor... Mrs. Isabelle Preston Nell O'Connor... Miss Olive Wall Mrs. William J. Harding... Miss Cassie Fawcett

The aim of melo-dramas now before the public is to present to the theatergoer a series of exciting climaxes and strong situations, with no attempt at reality or life-like naturalness. This has happily been availed in "The Paymaster," which was presented at the Lyceum last night before a large audience. On every side we see "just actions" where the un-dramatic "trying to get the up-and-down of struggling humanity." The story of the play is fraught with any number of good points, which are not uncommon in every day life. The piece was seen in Minneapolis last season, so that extended criticism is unnecessary. Steve Maley, as Larry O'Brien was humorous and comical. Miss Lillian Schovelin, as Ethel Milly, was smooth and artistic. The Paymaster will be seen at the Opera House Monday night, Feb. 9th.

Charles Chappelle as Robert Emmet O'Connor gave a finished performance, and when he made his escape from Inslavague prison, jumped into the waters beneath. The audience broke forth into rapturous applause. Steve Maley, as Larry O'Brien was humorous and comical. Miss Lillian Schovelin, as Ethel Milly, was smooth and artistic. The Paymaster will be seen at the Opera House Monday night, Feb. 9th.

Successful Trainer.

A. B. Hutchings, of Danville, who had such success the past summer in the Blue Grass Circuit with Evangeline, Mimie, Hixie, McGregor and others, writes "I have used Quinn's Ointment for some time and think it superior to all others, for Bog Spavins and Curbs it has no equal." Try it.

People's Theatre.

As the name implies "On the Frontier" is a story, in which life on the borders of civilization is depicted. It is a melo-drama, wherein a love story is surrounded by any number of exciting adventures. While the theme is conventional, however, the author has deviated from the western plays of the past, and has made her hero in love with a girl of his own sphere of life, instead of bringing a woman from the scenes of refinement and education, simply to be rescued by the hero and finally married by him. The hero and heroine are in the second act between Jack and Blueflower, "two children of the forest," is a gem. There is no dearth of action or of striking situations, and the audience testified last night that the love for border drama is strong. Plays in which Indians, scouts, and soldiers figure are generally popular, and "On the Frontier" is a popular play, and a faithful picture of rugged Western life.

James M. Hardie made an effective hero. He is a strong actor, and invested the central character with a virile romanticism which won the hearts of his auditors. Miss Sara Van Leer also did good work, and the supporting company was excellent. —M. Y. World.

If the young men, who call to see their girls these long winter evenings, do not wish to be met on the steps with the words: "Miss Laura is sick with a cold, and can't be seen," they had better keep them well supplied with Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. It costs only 25 cents a bottle.

Of all the liniments, oils and lotions upon the market (and their name is legion) Salvo's Oil is the best and most popular. Price 25 cents.

CATARH CURED, health and sweet breath secured by Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. Price 50 cents. Nasal Injector free. For sale by J. W. Gayle.

Reasons for Electrical Information.

An interesting sign of the great desire of the general public to acquire sound, even if elementary, ideas of electricity and electric arts has been given in the rush for tickets for the course to be given at Columbia College. It has been the desire of President Low from the first to place the college in sympathy with popular intellectual needs and tendencies, and in its way this series of electrical lectures meets just such a want as, if unsatisfied, leads often to downright evil and loss. The tickets cost $10 for the series, and the whole hundred of them have already been snapped up, while further applications are received daily. Each lecture will be accompanied by experiments, so that each auditor will be able to catch the meaning of every appliance or process and do everything except see the current flow.

The 100 subscribers to the lectures are generally professional men and people of education, who feel that ignorance of one of the greatest and most pervasive agencies of the times cannot be endured. Lawyers to whom electrical matters are brought, capitalists who know that the electrical forces have not yet been made, yet who cannot now discriminate; students desirous to be instructed as to the latest ideas and doctrines in electricity; mechanics and inventors on the watch for new opportunities—all these are represented on the list. What Columbia is doing in this public spirited way can be done by other American seats of learning surrounded by great populations. —New York Commercial Advertiser.

Disorders which Affect the Kidneys

Are among the most formidable known. Diabetes, Bright's disease, gravel and other complaints of the urinary organs are not ordinarily cured in severe cases, but they may be cured by timely medication. A useful stimulant of the urinary glands has ever been found in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine which not only affords the requisite stimulus when the system is inactive, but increases their vigor and secretory power. By increasing the activity of the kidneys and bladder, this medicine has the additional effect of expelling from the blood impurities which it is the peculiar office of these organs to eliminate and pass off. The Bitters is also a purifier and strengtheners of the bowels, an invigorant of the stomach, and a matchless remedy for biliousness and liver and spleen. It counteracts a tendency to premature decay, and sustains and comforts the aged and infirm.

A CHILD KILLED.

Another child killed by the use of opium given in the form of soothing Syrup. Why mothers give their children such deadly poisons is surprising, when they can relieve the child of its peculiar troubles by using Dr. Acker's Baby Soother. It contains no opium or morphine. IN MEMORIAM.

In memory of George Robert Sargent, who died at Hutton, Ky., Jan. 25, 1891.

The hands are now so softly laid,
Across our brother's breast,
While cars can never more invade
His everlasting rest.

God called him to his courts above,
To his celestial care;
An heir of Christ's redeeming love,
We hope to meet him there.

Thy friends at home all mourn for thee,
Where happy hours were spent;
The Lord has called, and left are we,
To weep and to lament.

Thy sweet confession of thy God,
Witnessed on thy trial day,
So soon to leave the vale you tread,
And gently you passed away.

Dear Robert, sleep within thy tomb
Thy resurrection morn;
When to the chosen of the Lord
Jerusalem shall dawn.

Weep not dear father, for thy son,
His course is finished now;
Angels were sent to wait him on,
Their wings now fan his brow.

When not, dear sisters, for the loss
Of him now gone above,
To join the chorus in the skies
With Jesus and His love.

Weep not, dear brothers, for the one
We loved so here below;
"The Lord has called," he said to us,
"Loved ones I now must go."

GUSTAVS TALBOT.

Another good man has been added to the long list of those who have "crossed the river" and are resting under the shade of the trees on the other side. Mr. Talbot, a native of New York, and a resident of this city, died at his home, near Steubenville, this county. No eulogy need be spoken to preclude his merit as a man, a citizen and a Christian. His works will best attest these traits, and memory will long cherish him among the loved and lost of his community. His modest, unobtrusive nature, unassuming the least of his acquaintances, and his knowledge of him best will recognize the fitness of his epitaph: "An honest man is the noblest work of God."

It is customary for all our people to turn out when a circus comes to town. It is also customary for all who ever tried Ganten's magic chik-cholera cure to recommend it to their neighbors. It is sold on the plan "no cure, no pay," by Phil Carter.

Educational.

A large majority of the children within the school zone do not attend school; who is to blame for this?

Can some one devise a plan by which we can make parents feel that they are not only responsible to their God, but also to the country for raising their children up in ignorance.

Are our schools of to-day as good as they were twenty years ago? There are citizens of Frankfort, who have seen young men and ladies from other States attending the schools here, is it so now? Oh, for the days of B. B. Sayo, Philip Fall and others of their days. We can and should make our schools the best in the State. We have the talent here in our midst, do not have to impart it, let us use the talents given us and Frankfort will soon have the educational center of the State.

Miss Leonna Jett, one of our country teachers, is attending the Normal School at Lebanon, Ohio. She is one who believes in preparing herself thoroughly for her profession. Would that more of our teachers would follow her example.

The following essay was read by one of the pupils of the Forks of Elkhorn school last Friday. It speaks for itself.

CIVIL GOVERNMENT.

Civil Government is that authority by which a State or a nation is ruled. It is established to preserve and keep society in order. Every boy and girl should study it, so that they will understand the nature of crimes and punishments, and can keep from committing a crime. Knowledge of the law is essential to peace, happiness and prosperity of every government. Civil Government is one of the most important studies in a school. Yet how few know the law. But ignorance of the law excuses no one. Every one is held accountable for violating a law. Some of the people in the penitentiary may have violated some law, which they did not know was a crime. I think if every one knew the law that we would have a better county. Boys especially ought to study Civil Government so when they get old enough to vote they will know which man is qualified to hold an office. Civil Government ought to have been taught in the schools long ago, but it took a good many years to bring it out.

All members of Industrial Legion Lodge are requested to be present at the hall Wednesday night, as preparation will be made for the annual sermon.

The Industrial Legion Lodge will have their annual sermon, preached to them on the second Sunday in March, and their many friends and members are expected to prepare themselves for that day. An excellent programme will be arranged for the occasion, and no pains will be spared to make it a success. The place at which the sermon will be preached will be announced in our next issue together with the programme.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowman Adams will leave the city next week for their home in Louisville to attend the big mask hop on the tenth of the month.

The members of the Industrial Legion Lodge are requested to be out in full Wednesday night, as preparations will be made for the annual sermon on that night.

It is said that the race for Janitor, of the colored public school is waxing hot.

The First Independent Baptist Church was crowded Sunday evening when the funeral of Mrs. Spicely Case was preached. She died Friday of last week after a short illness. She had been in declining health. Her remains were interred in the last resting place by a host of friends and relatives.

How Eastern Kentucky Views It.

Louisville's Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce have, so the press of that city assures us, determined to do everything in their power to have the State Capitol removed from Frankfort to Louisville. But to us, away up here in the mountains of Eastern Kentucky, it seems that Louisville's Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce could better employ their time in doing everything in their power to secure this place of the State from Cincinnati's influence. While the two great trade organizations are wasting their time in trying to starve out old historic and beautiful Frankfort by depriving her of her only means of support, which, if taken, could add but little to Louisville's importance, Cincinnati is quietly holding the trade of Eastern Kentucky, which has even been here, and is daily increasing her strength and influence in this section. One-half the amount necessary to secure the location of the State Capitol at Louisville would finish the building and equipment of the R. N. L. & R. E. B. to this point, and would open to Louisville, our metropolis, an empire of mineral wealth, give her the advantage over Cincinnati with reference to the trade of this rapidly growing and wonderful section of the State, add hundreds of thousands of dollars to the amount of Louisville's business, enrich her wholesale men and jobbers, and prosper this great territory, which has so long suffered for want of Louisville's assistance. We beg of Louisville and her trade organizations that they increase their railroad facilities into this section, and will come to them and us. Let Frankfort alone and help us and ourselves. Is it not better to build up than to destroy?—Beattyville Enterprise.

The senior proprietor of this paper has been subject to frequent colds for some years, which were sure to lay him up, if not doctored at once. He finds that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is reliable. It opens the secretions, relieves the lungs, and restores the system to a healthy condition. If freely used, as soon as the cold has been contracted, and before it has become settled in the system, it greatly lessens the attack and often cures in a single day what would otherwise have been a severe cold.—*Northwestern Hotel Reporter, Des Moines, Iowa. 50 cent bottles for sale by J. L. F. GANTER'S MAGIC REMOVER!

The MAGIC REMOVER fills a long felt want with owners of Horses or Mules with Warts, Knots, Bruises, Cuts, Strains, Sprains, Old Sores, Barb Wire Cuts, etc. It makes no difference how long the knot has been there, or how hard it is, (if it is not of the bone,) we will take it off on the "NO CURE, NO PAY" plan. In removing the knot the hair comes off, and the place becomes very sore; when you stop using it, the hair comes back its original color, and not a trace of the knot is left. For plan of insurance, etc., call at the undersigned druggist's, and bring your animal with you.
